After ail, the great quarrel between the sheepmen and the cattlemen who have for years been ranging their ocks and herds along the line of the Union Pacific in western Wyoming and northeastern Utah is not to be ties will, without doubt, resort to the by rights. The convention yesterday was remain here or not is a question which only the future can answer.

It is anticipated that the turning of between the same people, the centinu-of the reservoir between the same people, the continuance having been taken upon the request of the sheepmen to be allowed time in which to consider a proposition made by the cattlemen. On the 13th of the pursont mouth the men of flocks were in close consultation for the purpose of hearing the report of the special committee sent to this city for the purpose of securing legal counsel as to the course to be pursued in the case. That committee reported adversely upon the proposition submitted at the other general meeting and the gentlemen present decided to stand by the report. They stood their ground fairly and refused to seek cover at the request of the other side. In fact, they decided that the advances of the cattlemen were not to their interests and for that reason declined to have anything to do with the proposition then before them. The cattlemen made a second proposition to lease more land to the sheepmen but still the other side was made that the matter would be lested in the courts.

The meeting was very largely attended, among the gentlemen present being quite a number of Utah sheep owners who have ranged their flocks in the districts involved for a great length of time. One of these, Hom. John C. Mackay, was a recognized leader on the sile of the sheep owners who have ranged their flocks in the fish was a warm one. Unless some sort of a truce is patched up, which it seems hardly likely will be the case, there are some lively times ahead for the Inter-Mountain Milling company, the commone of the Salt Lake county flouring interests, some idea of the differences between the members of which was given exclusively to the readers of The Herald yesterday morning. There will undoubtedly be a very large movement of both sheep and cattle from California and western Nevada this year, and those shippers who for years have been under the thumbs of the San Francisco butchers, who are today perhaps, the strongest combination and greatest monopoly in the west, will rejoice in being able to sell their product in an open market where there is competition and a chance to get the real value of their livestock.

Such exercises as these do a wonderful amount of good and inspire the scholars in the schools to renewed effort and make the grown up people appreciate the public school system more than ever.

There is no good reason why the scholars from the country schools should not show the same degree of excellence in their school work as the scholars in the city schools, and the several school boards of the country should insist on as careful work on the part of their teachers as is required of the teachers in the city schools. If they do this the same results will naturally follow.

FIREMEN'S MEETING.

STATEMENTS MADE BY AN UNRELI-ABLE PAPER ARE REFUTED.

The Men Claim They Are Not Sucly or Disposed to Shirk Their Duty-Will Obey Orders Just the Same as They Have in the Past-Claim That All They Want Is Simply Justice.

An informal meeting of the firemer who have preferred the charges against the chief, was held yesterday in reference to the statements made by the News on Friday evening.

The men say they wish to set the public right on this matter. They emphatically deny that they are "dis gruntled" or "surly" over the failure of the mayor to suspend the chief. This action, said a committee appointed for the purpose of making a statement, is a perogative of the executive and they have no fault to find with him in relation to this act. If he thinks he is right they have no criticisms to offer.

Relating to the "survivees" the mon

Relating to the "surliness," the men say they have served the city for years, some longer than others of course, but none of them have any inclination to shirk a duty, no matter who is chief. "You can say for us that as long as we are members of this department, we will do our duty to the very best of our ability" said the spokesman. "We wish to say that no member of the News staff has ever consulted one of us. We have said nothing to any one in the employ of that paper and the stuff which was printed in Friday's issue is wholly without foundation. If the reporter who wrote the matter will call, we will be glad to give him snything in the way of legitimate news we have, but we do object to the public being misinformed, as it was, in relation to our position.

This system is in itself quite simple, yet very satisfactory, and with its aid Dr. Kuester performs more painless dentistry than any other dentist in the territory. It consists of certain technical abtundants which so benumb the tooth to be operated upon as to deprive it of all feeling, hence no pain follows in preparing a tooth either for filling or extracting. It is absolutely safe and free from after effects. Dr. Kuester's office is a completely equipped one and lacks nothing which tends to promote the patient's comfort or excellence of work.
